Performing Arts

Seattle Opera at Marion Oliver McCaw Hall

Cinderella

(by Gioachino Rossini Libretto and Jacopo Ferretti)

Rossini's flowery adaptation of the ultimate rags-to-riches story mixes tenderness and frivolity with fabulous results. From its first class overture to its high-flying "happily ever after" finale, the comedic love story shines a light on the gleaming potential for goodness in a dark world. Memorable melodies, bright ensembles, colorful characters, and ridiculous situations make this valentine to kindness sparkle with an enchantment all of its own. Inspired by the whimsical aesthetic of Tim Burton and the cheeky "panto" shows enjoyed in English music halls, director Lindy Hume sets the fairy tale in and around a Victorian emporium. With glamorous ball gowns, dapper Dickensian tailcoats, multi-level sets, and a dash of stage magic, the production delivers delights by the dozens.* "Charming!" - Opera Today "Fun and colorful.
