Museum of Flight
American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics
Retiree Meeting

Join us for our third AIAA Retiree's off-schedule summer session, temporarily held via Zoom online until Museum of Flight meetings can again be held in person. This third of four meetings is being held this summer to capture the history of commercial aviation as shared recently (and going somewhat beyond what was shared) with a COMAC-sponsored Chinese documentary on the evolution of commercial jet aviation. The first and second sessions were about the time period from the 707, 727, 737, 747, 757, and 767. In this third of the series, Peter Morton will talk about Boeing history focusing on the time period of the 777 up to the certification of early ETOPS. Our fourth in the series (in September) will be Mike Lombardi talking about the end of WW2 up to the development of the Dash-80.

Registration is required. Connecting from a computer that has the Zoom software installed would be useful so you can see and hear the presentation. If your computer has a camera (so we can see you), and a microphone (so we can hear you) that would be best. Connecting sound via phone is also an option if that works better for you than using a computer microphone and speakers.
