Retiree Meeting

Join us on January 20th, 2024, for our regular AIAA Retiree's hybrid on-line/in-person meeting at the Museum of Flight (MoF). Boeing Historian Michael Lombardi, who is a gifted speaker and an encyclopedic resource of aircraft development stories, will talk about the greatest fighter plane of the Second World War, the P-51 Mustang. While its combat record is well known, what is not well known is the inspiring story of the role the North American Aviation (NAA) engineering and leadership teams had. Mike will share with us the design evolution, technical firsts, and the manufacturing innovations that were pioneered by the NAA teams for the Mustang. This is an opportunity to hear memories collected directly from the Mustang design team who hoped that these accomplishments would inspire future generations of engineers.

Registration is required - Please click on this link to register, as registration is required whether attending via Zoom or in-person at the MoF. If planning to attend in-person in the South View Lounge, please register no later than Friday January 12th to avoid higher costs. All costs are visible during the short registration process. Zoom-only and speaker attendance remain free of charge.

We are looking forward to seeing you on Saturday January 20th, 2024. If you need help registering, please contact Karl at KarlR@SeaAIAAretirees.com
