Retiree Meeting

Join us in September for our regular AIAA Retiree's hybrid on-line/in-person meeting at the Museum of Flight. At that meeting, Alaska Airline's Scott Day will bring us insight into what Alaska Airlines is thinking about. Scott is Alaska Airline's System Chief Pilot where he oversees 3400 pilots and was previously Director of Flight Training. Scott will provide a short history of Alaska Airlines, the current technology used on the flightline and in training, plus current challenges in the industry, as well as discuss the strong partnership that they have with Boeing.

Registration is required - Please click on this link to register as registration is required whether attending via Zoom or in-person at the MoF. If planning to attend in-person in the South View Lounge, please register no later than Friday September 8th to avoid higher costs. All costs are visible during the short registration process. Zoom-only and speaker attendance remain free of charge.

We are looking forward to seeing you on Saturday September 16th, 2023. If you need help registering, please contact Karl at KarlR@SeaAIAAretirees.com
