Sibelius Symphony No. 7 Masterwork Series

Kazem Abdullah, conductor

Augustin Hadelich, violin

Seattle Symphony

For his seventh and final symphony, Sibelius distilled all his powers down to a succinct, momentous closing statement – an odyssey contained in just over 20 minutes. A newly commissioned work from Dai Fujikura takes its inspiration from this enigmatic work. We welcome back Augustin

Hadelich to perform Britten's Violin concerto, composed in the growing shadows of World War II.

Life on the Move with Lucy Hawkes National Geographic Live

Lucy Hawkes, speaker

Every year, billions of animals migrate in search of food, water, or a mate. Join physiological ecologist Lucy Hawkes, who has spent years studying how and why these massive migrations occur, for astonishing stories of animal perseverance in the face of incredible odds. You'll meet some of the greatest animal athletes on Earth — from the elusive, deep-diving basking shark to the high-flying bar-headed goose whose migratory route involves more than 3,000 miles of flight over 90 days. She'll share an inside look at what she's learned tracking animals on their long-distance journeys across the planet.
